TEACHERS' LOCAL INSTITUTE.

The teachers' institute for the district comprising Benton, Sugarloaf and Jackson townships, met at Benton on Saturday, February 3d, at 10 A. M. The following teachers were present: E. B. Beishline, Miss Ella McHenry, B. B. Callender, Miss Tubbs, Miss Evans, Miss Emma Harvey, Miss Hartman and E. H. Larish, of Benton. Mr. Hess, Mr. Butt, Mrs. Stedman, Miss Davis, Mr. Long, Miss N. Harvey and Miss Letteer, of Sugarloaf. Mr. Shultz, Miss Singer, Miss Fritz and Mr. Yorks, of Jackson. Mr. Edwards, of Fishingcreek. Mr. Fahringer and Mr. Hosler of Briarcreek, were also in attendance.

The morning session opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Maltman, pastor of the Christian church of Benton. After a piece of music by the choir, Rev. Maltman delivered an address upon the subject "Morals in the Public Schools." He deplored the condition of morals in the schools at the present and suggested that definite instruction should be given upon this as well as other subjects.

Physiology and Hygiene was then taken up by Dr. Hess, of Benton. He took up the circulation and showed the need of pure blood and good ventilation.

Prof. Wilbur, of the Normal School, of Bloomsburg, discussed the subject of History. He outlined the way of teaching it successfully; by taking important dates and making them landmarks around which the events can be clustered. In the study of history the characters of the great men ought to be studied for their influence upon our own lives. At the close of Prof. Wilbur's remarks the institute adjourned until 1:30 P. M.

Promptly at 1:30 P. M., the exercises were opened with Supt. Johnston in the chair. A solo by Doyle Hartman was first in order. Recitations by Laura Seward and Nina Harrington followed. Miss Nora Harvey then read an essay after which came a recitation by Effie Seely.

Prof. DeWitt, of the Normal School, Bloomsburg, now took the floor and discussed the subject of Manual Training. He said that it is not the purpose of the instructors in this department to teach any trade but to educate the body along with the mind. The eye and hand are trained to be accurate. Through these the brain is also educated. These exercises introduced into our schools increase the attendance of the boys in our high schools. They also help the teacher in governing the pupils.

Mattie Shultz and Emma Getz delivered recitations. Miss Davis, of Jamison City, read an essay on the subject of Character Building. In this she said that character should be developed in a symmetrical manner. It is the teachers' duty to see that this is done. Maude Clewell and Mattie Peterman followed with recitations. E. B. Beishline, of Stillwater, then took up the subject of Language He said that the pupils should be compelled to commit to memory the principles and rules in the grammar. In this way the mind gains strength. We should also have them correct false syntax and analyze correct forms. Correct forms of expression are learned by so doing.

After recitations by Carrie Smith and Lula Hirleman and a solo by Bertelle Laubach, Miss Tubbs, of Benton, read an essay on the subject, The Teachers' Aim. In it she said that a definite aim is necessary and that it should be the very highest. The highest aim of a teacher is to educate and train the pupils in the best way.

Prof. Wilbur then gave a general talk in which he mentioned the things to be secured by discipline. They were 1st, good order; 2d, attention; 3, diligence. He also said that education is often one-sided. He illustrated by mentioning the Persians as noted for their justice and courage, the Athenians as wonderfully educated in the art stand sciences, and the Spartans as bright examples of obedience to laws. Yet all these nations were finally overthrown by the unedu cated parts of their natures. He spoke of Astronomy as an aid in keeping the pupils interested. It should not be taught as a regular branch but incidentally. He also said that to have a successful school the parents must co operate with the teachers.

After a recitation by Ray Stedman, and a solo by Myrtle Crossley, Miss Ella McHenry read an essay on "The Teachers' Work" In it she said that it is the duty of the teacher to interest the pupil, to be a good example and to train the pupil to form correct habits.

Charles Hartman and Lizzie McHenry gave recitations. Miss Evans of Benton, read an essay on the subject, "The Training of the Child makes the Man." In it she read that the child should be taught to form the very highest ideals of life. His mind should be filled with good thoughts. In this way a noble character is formed, and the man will be a credit to society.

After a recitation by Anna Edwards, Superintendent Johnston talked for a few minutes on the subject, Well begun is half done. He said that the teacher should begin the day well; he should enter the school room in the right spirit; begin the session properly, and begin each recitation aright. After this the institute adjourned. The attendance at both sessions was very large and the occasion was in every way a success. Respectfully submitted.

E. L. LARISH,
Secretary.

EX-COUNTY TREASURER KLINE.

The Bloomsburg Daily of Monday contains an article headed "The Great Expose," in which it charges that John L. Kline, whose term of office as county treasurer expired the first of this year, has retained, and now has a sum of money exceeding two thousand dollars, which he should have paid over to the county, and it gives figures which, it claims, proves the charges. The allegation is direct and positive, and it must be answered in some way. If it be true, it may have arisen by a mistake in figures, for the county statement in some parts is kept in such shape that no one but an expert can figure it out, and this seems to be one of the places. John L. Kline is a thoroughly honest man, and it will be hard to make the public believe that he would wilfully and unlawfully defraud the county out of money, at least such is our belief. If true, Mr. Kline will no doubt pay over the amount ascertained in a proper way to be due from him, if the county auditors have made a mistake.

Mr. Young as Hamlet'

The young and talented James Young, supported by a good company, played Hamlet Saturday night in the Opera House. Mr Young who took the leading role in the character of Hamlet, did his part splendid. In fact it is a qnestion as to whether America has ever produced but one man that was his equal at his age as a tragedian. This may be saying much but it is easier for those who have never seen him to believe to the contrary than it is for any to prove to the contrary. His interpretation of the character of Hamlet is almost faultless. His recitation is clear, distinct, and forcible, varying to suit every grade of feeling. He captured his audience completely. As far as can be seen, Mr. Young has a brilliant future ahead of him. There can be no question about the fact that he is a young man of unusual mental force and is in full possession of the fit implements to carve his way to the front rank in his profession. Mr. Young will appear at Bloomsburg Opera House Friday February 9th.

APPOINTED DEPUTY COLLECTOR.

Robert Buckingham Esq., entered upon his duties as Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue on the 4th inst., under Collector Herring. He filled the same place under Cleveland's former administration, and knows all about the business. Business will call him from home some of the time, and his ever genial presence will be missed by his host of friends and numerous clients. He succeeds Captain Gable, of Shamokin, who displaced him four years ago. His headquarters will be in Bloomsburg, as usual, at his office in the post office building.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Teachers' local institutes will be held as follows:

For Madison, Pine and Greenwood at Millville on Saturday, the 10th of Feb'y; for Roaringcreek, Franklin, Cleveland and Locust at Numidia, on Saturday, Feb'y 17th.

All teachers in these districts are expected to attend these meetings and have their names recorded by the secretaries, directors, and all others are cordially invited to attend.

THE NEW DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Thos. B. Hanly Esq., entered upon the performance of his duties as District attorney on Monday. He is active and energetic, a ready and impressive speaker, and possessed of unusual ability, and he will fill the position well.

Monday morning February 5th was the coldest day in the year, the thermometer at Bloomsburg registering 3 degrees belew zero.

LUNACY OF MARGARET WEAVER.

On Monday of last week a hearing was held before W. A. Evert Esq., commissioner appointed by the court, and six jurors, to inquire into the lunacy of Margaret Weaver, of Bloomsburg. The jurors were William Kramer, C. H. Campbell, R Rush Zarr, Esq., D. R. Coffman, M. E. Cox and John Cadman, and the proceedings were instituted by. Mrs. Phoebe J. Adams, of Aledo, Illinois, a sister of the lunatic, for the purpose of having a committee appointed to take charge of her estate.

In 1884, Margaret Weaver was first committed to the Asylum for the Insane at Danville, and was soon after removed from there, having gone only as a private patient. In 1886, her condition again became worse, and a commission of three persons was appointed by the court, on petition of residents of Market street, to ascertain whether she was a fit person to be restrained. The commission found that she was, and the court committed her to the Hospital at Danville. In 1888, she was permitted to come home, but was soon after recommitted by the court, and has remained there ever since. Her age is about sixty years, and her disease is incurable, though her physical health is good. She is possessed of several thousand dollars' worth of property, and it is necessary for some person to look after it. These facts were found by the commission, and the report was made accordingly by Commissioner Evert on Monday last. A committee to take charge of the estate will be appointed by the court.

J. B. Robison Esq., has filed his report as Master in the bill in equity in which the Bloomsburg Belt RailroadCo. is plaintiff and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Co., defendant. The suit began four years ago when the defendant company laid a crossing over Seventh street by removing the rails of the plaintiffs. The latter, one week after, tore up the crossing and served an injunction on the defendants to restrain them from further interfering with their tracks. Nothing further was done until last summer, when the case came before the master. The decree permits the D. L. & W. Co. to cross at grade the tracks of the Belt Railroad at the point in dispute, and by agreement, the latter is permitted to cross the tracks of the former at the School Furnishing Co's. works, each one to cross the other at its own expense and maintain the same.

COLLECTOR HERRING SWORN IN.

Hon. Grant Herring was sworn in as Collector of Internal Revenue for the Twelfth District, at Scranton last Saturday, by U. S. Commissioner Colburn. His father, G. A. Herring has been appointed Cashier by him.

Collector Herring has appointed Miss Ellen May Wilson as stamp agent at Easton temporarily, because Geo Aubel, former stamp agent, did not renew his bond, and it was necessary to have some one act immediately to accommodate brewers and others. Miss Wilson was Mr. Aubel's chief clerk. All the other employes directly under the collector have renewed their bonds for one month. The office will be removed to the new government building in Scranton next Saturday Whether it will be moved from Scranton is not yet determined.

The New Castle Daily Courant of January 17th says of James Young who will appear at the Opera House this Friday evening:

Mr. Young's Hamlet is almost faultless. Indeed in movement, attitude and expression it is doubtful if he has ever been excelled.

With the experience that comes with years, older tragedians have failed to create so good an impression, and they must look well to their laurels in the presence of this young actor who seems to have been particularly fitted by nature to impersonate the immortal characters of Shakespeare. We bespeak for him a wonderful success and feel certain that he will attain it.

As there is a report in circulation that their is an over issue of Town Bonds and a floating indebtedness largely in excess of the resources, the Finance Committee wish us to state that the Bonded indebtedness is about Two hundred dollars, ($200.00) below the limit according to a statement made by the Secretary January 30th.

If the taxes due and the license money in the hands of the County Treasurer were paid in there would be $2289.05 in the Town treasury.

An infant gladdened the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Snyder on Sunday morning.

Y. M. C. A. ANNIVERSARY.

The third anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Bloomsburg, was held in the Opera House, Monday evening, February 5th. Tickets of admission were sent to all patrons and friends of the association, and at eight o'clock nearly one thousand people gathered to enjoy the evening's entertainment. The President of the association, Dr. J. P. Welsh made the announcements, there being some departure from the printed programme. The exercises began with a selection by the Y. M. C. A. male choir, and Mrs. Fred Holmes at the organ. Rev. Weeks of the Baptist church, read a passage of scripture, followed with prayer; another selection was given by the choir, after which O. H. Yetter gave a bass solo that elicited such applause as to enforce his reappearance and giving another bass solo. The President's report showed great work done during the year; 59 conversions to 22 during the past year; average attendance at meetings 105 against 99 the previous year, requests for prayer 87, the previous year only 39. In the reading room were received 215 monthlies, 1127 weeklies, and 1383 dailies—the rooms often being so crowded that men were obliged to stand up to read. In the department for boy's work there was an attendance of 24,819, being an average of 79 a day. The association has found employment for 2 and assisted 11. The President stated that the work was all done by money subscribed by the citizens of Bloomsburg, that the demands were increasing and this year the association would ask for more liberal contribution, and hoped to have the subscriptions on a permanent basis. They expected to have an Evangelist here about the middle of March, who would work at the shops (in company with the choir) with the hope of enlisting the attention of more of the workmen—it will be a noonday evangelistic work. The President urged the need of an association building, and hoped soon to see one built. The Treasurer, W. H. Brower, gave his report showing that $1749 11 was received during the year, and $1748 96 expended leaving a balance in his hands of 15 cents. The choir gave a selection, after which Dr. Welsh introduced Dr. Geo. Edward Reed, President of Dickinson College, Carlisle, who gave an interesting address on the subject of "Value of Enthusiam." His subject was an entirely new one and hence he had the closest attention of the audience. The exercises concluded with music by the Y. M. C. A. choir, and benediction by Rev. Womelsdorf, of the Evangelical church.

UNION DEFENDERS' DAY, FEB'Y 12.

Come to the Opera House February 12th at 7:30 P. M. to hear the addresses of Comrade E. J. Bowman and Fred Ikeler Esq. The Veterans and Sons of Veterans have made arrrngements to properly observe Union Defenders' Day this year, at the Opera House. A suitable program has been arranged, Comrade E. J. Bowman and Fred Ikeler Esq. will each deliver an address suitable for the occasion. These men need no comment. The Y. M. C. A. choir and the Bloomsburg Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. Admittance free to all, Let all good loyal citizens turn out and show the proper respect to the Martyred president.

How to get Trout Fry for Stocking.

The Pennsylvania Commissioners of Fisheries will have on hand for distribution after March 1st, about 6,250,000 trout fry, and announcement is made that applications for fish for planting in suitable waters will now be received. These applications should be made to the following commissioners, who will furnish blanks for filling out: Henry C. Ford, 1823 Vine street, Philadelphia; H. C. Demuth, Lancaster; John Gay, 1020 Vine street, Philadelphia; (for the western part of the State) S. B. Stillwell, Scranton; Louis Strenber, Erie; F. W. Ebel, Harrisburg. Heretofore the applications for fish fry only required the signature of the commissioner to whom they were made; but in the future, under an act of the last legislature, they must be endorsed by the senator or representative of the district in which the application is made.

A large audience was in attendance at the Normal Auditorium last week Thursday night, and was delighted with the performance of the Fisk Jubilee singers. Their voices are very melodious and Mr. Loudin's talk on their trip around the world was highly entertaining. We hope they will come again.

THE TOWN ELECTION.

Some weeks ago the question was raised as to whether the Town of Bloomsburg was affected by the act of 1893, providing for the election of a Burgess in boroughs. The opinion of Hon. C. R. Buckalew was asked for by us, and this is his opinion in brief:

Bloomsburg is both a town and township, as Philadelphia is both a city and county. It includes town and township territory, and by the express language of its charter possesses in addition to the organization and powers of a township, a town organization and government pursuant to that charter. It is not a borough in name, form or character. In name it is a town, in territorial form a township, in character an incorporated district, with municipal powers suited to its situation and needs, but in many important respects, essentially different from those of a borough. It has no wards or ward offices; no chief or assistant Burgess; no enlarged board of school directors, consequent upon ward divisions, and it includes an entire township, with farm lands and out-settlements, which could not be included in borough limit, consequently the act relating to boroughs, or rather to borough officers, passed at the last session of the Legislature (23d May, 1893, P. Laws, 113) can have no application to Bloomsburg.

Amusements.

James Young, an actor new to Youngstown and for that matter new to the amusement loving public generally, appeared at the Opera House last evening in "Hamlet," Mr. Young assuming the character of the melancholy Dane. He is a young man, not out of his 'teens, but he possesses rare native histrionic ability which is sure to be developed and cultivated until he stands on the same plane with those noble stars of the past. Nature has been kind to Mr. Young in giving him a pleasing and mobile face, a good figure and a wonderful voice. These he uses to advantage. In the play last evening Mr. Young demonstrated most conclusively to the good sized audience that he possessed great talent and ability. He reads his lines in an almost faultless manner, his facial expression is splendid, and his general stage deportment merits only the highest. It would be unfair to Mr. Young to compare his impersonation with that of either Mr. Booth or Mr. Barrelt, who are now considered the greatest delineators of the character among modern actors. We remember the character as played by those men after they had had years of training in stage craft and dramatic work Mr. Young is youthful in years, as well as in all pertaining to the stage. With modern actors who essay the character, and of whom, perhaps, Lawrence Hanley is the leader and Mr. Young's impersonsonation will gain by a comparison. His company is vastly inferior to himself.—Youngstown Paper.

Mr. Young will appear in our city at the Opera House in Hamlet the Dane, Friday night, February 9th. Seats new on sale at Slate's Book Store.

The American Holstein Association.

A meeting of the American Holstein Association was held on Tuesday afternoon at the office of R. R. Little. R. G. F. Kashinka, E. H. Little, Abner Fague, Daniel Bryfogle and R. R. Little were elected Directors.

The Directors organized by electing Daniel Bryfogle President and E. H. Little as Secretary and Treasurer.

The Association will take immediate steps to prepare themselves to receive applications for the registry of cattle.

The McKelvy store is still closed but the appraisers, Frank Pursel and Frank Ikeler, have nearly completed their labors, and when they are done and the amount of the bond fixed by the court, and the assignee's bond filed, the store will be opened by A. Z. Schoch, assignee, and the goods disposed of in the way best calculated to realize the largest amount of money for the benefit of the creditors.

It is a very sad and solemn view that the Sullivan Review takes of the project of a new Court house in that county. It says: "The child unborn will be gray headed before Sullivan county's new Court house is paid for. Messrs. Cheney, McBride and Scanlin will need no storied urn nor animated bust to perpetuate their memories. Their final 'bust' has nearly busted the county, and will keep us all poor for a generation."

As the matter stands now the fight for President of the Town Council is between W. O. Holmes and F. P. Drinker.

BRIEF MENTION.

A. B. CATHCART, P. M.

A few near friends of the Caswells met at their home Tuesday evening and enjoyed their hospitality. Mrs. Mame Caswell baked some Fastnacht cookies and passed them to her friends, according to an ancient custom, that all who ate of the cake before them would have success during the year. Those present regretted that the hours passed by so rapidly.

Farmers' Institute under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture will be held at Millville, February 28th and March 1st and at Bloomsburg March 2nd and 3rd, 1894. These meetings will be interesting and instructive. Those interested in any way in agriculture should attend them.

J. K. Bittenbender has filed nomination papers as a candidate for tax collector of Bloomsburg.

CONVENIENT DAIRY BARN.

Some Directions for Building a Plain and Useful Structure.

A good barn is necessary to the comfort of the cows and to some extent to the profit of dairying, and as most young farmers start with small capital many who would like to engage in dairying are deterred from it because it will cost too much to put up a dairy barn. I have studied the question of a convenient and economical dairy barn, and one which can be either added to or duplicated if one wishes to increase the number of his cows, writes Waldo F. Brown, in the Rural New Yorker.

The model dairy barn should be well lighted and ventilated, should furnish storage room for bran and other ground feed as well as hay and fodder and for bedding for the cows; should have a convenient place to store the manure until such time as it can be taken to the fields, and the arrangement for feeding should be such that the food can be got to the cows with the least labor. The sides should be double boarded. There will be no need of this double boarding for the upper part of the barn, which is used only for storage.

One window on each side to every two stalls is necessary to make the stable light and to furnish air in hot weather. These windows need not be large—a six-light half sash of 10 by 12 glass for each will be sufficient, and they can be placed on a rail tie and opened or shut by sliding. The frame of such a barn as this can be made cheaper and stronger by bolting it together, without any mortices or tenons, than by the old plan of framing.

A dairy barn need only be made twenty-four feet wide for two rows of cows, and the most convenient way to arrange it is to have them stand facing each other and eat from the same manger. This manger should be six feet wide, and the feed-boxes for meal should not be set on the floor, but raised sixteen inches above, and set on the partition which keeps the cows from getting into the manger. These feed-boxes should always be placed at the left side of the stall, as this will prevent the cow from crowding the milker, who always sits at the right side.

The partition between the cows and manger may be made by setting one board a foot wide on edge, and resting it on top of a 2 by 4 scantling, and then two feet above that another 2 by 4. This space, two feet wide, is for the cows to put their heads through to eat from the manger.

The feed-boxes should be 12 by 16 inside measure, and a foot deep, and they must be well secured. Make the cow stalls 4½ feet wide, including the partitions.

Such a barn should have posts twenty feet high. The bins for storing bran and meal should be located in the upper story, and then have a large box with a drop lid below in the feed-room, and draw the feed through a wooden spout down into it.

In flooring the loft nail the floor down at both sides over the cow stalls and make it close, so no dust or hay seed can sift through. Do not nail a floor over the manger, but provide light, strong boards, and lay across this six-foot space so that they can be taken up as fast as the hay or fodder is fed out.

The best flooring for barns and stables is cement. The ground floor of the barn should have at the end nearest the house, where you enter it, a feed-room 10 by 24 feet, then the cow stalls, and at the opposite end a manure shed. This shed should have double doors at each end, so that you can drive through it to take out the manure, and it can be used to winter the young heifers.

As all the floor room will be needed for manure a rack should be made across the end to feed hay and fodder in; the bottom of it can be 3½ feet from the ground and it can be suspended from the joist above, so as to have no posts in the way. The rack must not be deep—eighteen inches will answer—as you must have room to get hay or fodder into it. It is necessary to have box-stalls in which to shut cows at farrowing time, and these can be made by the use of movable partitions, so that this shed can be divided into two or three parts when needed; and this can be arranged by light lift gates.

Such a barn can be built for $500.

The cut shows a ground plan of the stable, with doorway, D, at house end to enter it. M B is the meal bin into which bran and meal are drawn from the granary above; B, bin for bedding—sawdust or chaff—and a corner may be used above for storing this, and it dropped down as needed. M T is a shelf or table for the milk pails. Four windows are shown on each side; W the walk on either side—two feet wide; M D manure ditches; S the stalls; M the six-foot manger through the centre. Small doors are placed at each end of the walks; those at the manure shed, M S, are to be made wide enough for the cows to pass out; those at the other end are simply for the milkers to pass in and out. The large doors are shown, and the feed rack, F R.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the on'y positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Why Hood's Wins.

President Lincoln said, "You cannot fool the people a second time." They are too quick to recognize real merit or lack of it, and cling to those things which they find to be what is claimed for them.

It is especially gratifying that the sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla increases most rapidly in those sections where it is best known.

The inference is plain. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven that it possesses genuine merit. It maintains a high standard, which others cannot even approach. It is the people's favorite blood-purifying and building up medicine, and is more popular this year than ever before. All this because HOOD'S CURES.

Fashionable Livery.

The well known horseman has opened a fashionable livery in connection with his boarding stable at the Exchange Hotel Stables, where fine turnouts can be obtained, single or double. He has well broken and safe saddle and driving horses for ladies, all at reasonable rates. Orders left at the Exchange Hotel will receive prompt attention. Drivers furnished when desired.

FOR THE relief and cure of a cold in the head there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other treatments have proved of no avail.

A teaspoonful of baking soda, dry, will often cure hiccough.

It is claimed that an albino buzzard was killed by a hunter near Tampa, Fla., recently.

Asthma Sufferers

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try Schiffmann's German Asthma Cure. No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial will prove. Send for a trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul., Minn., but ask your druggist first.

STATE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Representative-at-Large-in-Congress,
JAMES DENTON HANCOCK,
of Venango County.

JAMES DENTON HANCOCK.

The right of appeal from the settlement of the county auditors is given by law to any persons who are aggrieved thereby or think that injustice has been done, or a fraud committed, and any lawyer will tell them how to proceed, or they can ascertain for themselves by consulting the proper law books. It has been suggested that the present board of commissioners should appeal from the recent settlement as now published, but as they have been so freshly inducted into office, and are as yet not sure of any occasion for an appeal it has been suggested from another source that the proper person to appeal is some expert in figures who has given the statement careful study.

TOWNSHIP NOMINATIONS.

The new ballot law of 1893 was intended to remedy some of the defects in the act of 1891, and in many respects it has done so, and as soon as all its provisions become known by the people it will work smoothly and satisfactorily. Some defective papers have been filed in the commissioners' office, nominating township officers in certain districts. R. S. Bowman, of Berwick, filed nomination papers for Justice of the Peace without naming the party of which he is a member, as the law requires. Nomination papers from Berwick, the four Conynghams, Beaver, Mt. Pleasant, Centre and Hemlock contain two inspectors on each paper, which is a mistake, as each voter can vote for but one inspector, and their nomination must be made with separate papers. Absence of instructions on the blanks on this point led to this. The people who signed them cannot be blamed for falling into this error, but it should be borne in mind here after. Several papers do not name the party policy. The commissioners have power to permit the correction of errors by the persons filing the papers any time before the tickets are printed. There are no serious errors, and all of the small ones will probably be corrected.

The report of Dun's Mercantile Agency for February 3rd, says a fresh impulse has been given to business this week by the success of the Treasury in obtaining gold for its reserve, thus strengthening confidence in its ability to maintain gold payments. Revenue had fallen off so much, and the prospects for the loan looked so unfavorable, until financial institutions here decided to carry it through, that some anxiety about the monetary future was natural. Investments in the ordinary sense have been affected very little, and while more demand for time loans has appeared, the money market cannot be expected to change much with $245,000,000 cash in the banks and more coming from the interior, while the Treasury also is compelled to pay out more than it now receives in taxes. Gradual improvement in business explains the appearance of more commercial paper in the market this week than has been seen for a long time, though as yet the vast accumulation of idle funds is proof enough that trade has by no means regained normal proportions. Industrial recovery continues, though, it is but gradual, in response to the demand of a people whose consumption at its lowest is greater than that of any other country, and more mills are now at work.

THAT INCOME TAX.

There seems to be in certain quarters a decided opposition to an income tax. Why this should be so, I am at a loss to understand. Of course those who will be directly affected by it, will very naturally feel inclined to demur. But that the plan should find opponents among those who are at present paying more than their just share of tax, and would to a greater or less extent be relieved by an income tax, is one of the strange things in this strange world of ours.

If such tax would work an injustice to any class of our citizens, all honest men should and no doubt would oppose it. The injustice has heretofore been, that those persons having large incomes have not been taxed proportionally as high as their less favored neighbors whose income has been much less. I presume it would not be difficult to find men with an income of five thousand dollars and over, whose tax bill is not so great as some others whose income is less than one-fifth of that amount. It is a fact beyond controversy, that the poorer class of people pay more tax in proportion to their ability, than the more wealthy class. This is an injustice, that will be only partially overcome by the proposed income tax. It will, however, be a step in the right direction.

One objection raised against the income tax is, that it will be evaded. False returns will be made as to the amount of their respective incomes. If they are put under oath, it will lead to perjury.

Well, there is a number of people in the world, who are of the opinion that wealthy men are not always honest. It would be a little strange if they were all strictly honest. There are some who are not very wealthy, who need a little watching. There is a goodly number, perhaps a majority of people, who regard taxes of any kind as a burden that may justly or properly be evaded. And those people are not confined to any one class.

If the objection to an income tax that unscrupulous men are likely to evade it, is a valid one, why not apply it to all forms of taxation. Men frequently return a less number of acres of land than they own, and cut down on the age of their horses and cattle to avoid paying taxes on them. Money lenders forget to return their money at interest. Importers frequently attempt and sometimes succeed in smuggling to avoid the tariff.

Why not put down all modes of taxation that designing men can take advantage of? Let us have a system of taxation that will hit the rogue as hard as the honest man. If such a system is unattainable, let us have a system that will divide the burden as equitably as possible between honest men with large incomes and those in more moderate circumstances

I favor an income tax for two reasons. One is that it draws upon those who are most able to pay it, and have hitherto not had their full share of the burden. The other is purely a selfish one, viz, I will never be bothered with it. The wish is not father to the thought this time. I sincerely wish that I had an income sufficient to place me in that list of taxables.

The EMERSON PIANO.

These instruments have enjoyed a high reputation for more than forty years. Are Brilliant and Musical in Tone, and afford a most beautiful accompaniment to vocal music—the tone having that rare sympathetic quality which blends admirably with the human voice. They are durable, being constructed of the best Materials, by the Most Skilful Workmen. They have earned an especial reputation for Keeping in Tune, and also for retaining in a most remarkable degree their original fulness of tone—never growing thin or wiry with age.

The Emerson Upright Pianos especially have obtained a remarkable success during the past few years, and have invariably received a high award wherever exhibited. In all the essential qualities of a First-Class Instrument they are second to no pianos manufactured in the country. ### Of Interest to Flower-Lovers.

L. R. Benedict, of Ellenville, Ulster Co. N. Y. whose advertisement of seeds and bulbs appears in another column of this paper, has issued the first number of Garden Lore, a monthly magazine devoted especially to the departments of horticulture which concern the great mass of amateur gardeners and flower-lovers. It treats of seeds, bulbs and plants that all can grow, and is replete with valuable information and suggestions. An excellent feature is the many illustrations showing how plants actually appear in cultivation, which furnish a marked contrast in many instances to the idealized cuts appearing in most of the seed catalogues. The subscription price is only 25c per year, and seed and bulb premiums worth fully the price of the magazine are given with each subscription The March number will contain a beautiful plate of Nasturtiums, printed in six colors, being reproduced from a painting from nature by a new photo engraving process. A specimen copy will be sent free upon application by postal card.

NOTHING is more destructive of beauty than a bad complexion, and nothing is more certain to secure a good one than the use of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills. 2t.

Just full of improvements—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets To begin with, they're the smallest, and easiest to take. They're tiny, sugar-coated sugar coated anti-bilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Every child is ready for them.

Then, after they're taken, instead of disturbing and shocking the system, they act in a mild, easy, and natural way. There's no chance for any reaction afterward. Their help lasts. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're put up in glass vials, which keep them always fresh and reliable, unlike the ordinary pills in wooden or pasteboard boxes.

And they're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You only pay for the good you get.

Col. Frey was born at Ariesheim, Switzerland, October 24, 1838. After attending the excellent schools in Basle he entered the University of Jena and took foremost rank as a scholar in his special branches of study. At the federal military school of Switzerland he took the usual course of an officer's training and then sought practical experience in the line of agricultural science in Germany, extending his observations and studies in that line to America, where, in 1861, when the civil war broke out, he was found practically engaged as a farm hand in Illinois, familiarizing himself with the agricultural methods of the great West.

Although he had only come to the United States to remain temporarily, his inborn military ardor got the better of him and he enlisted, being enrolled at Chicago and mustered into service July 8, 1861, as a sergeant with Company E, Twenty-fourth Illinois Infantry, to serve three years. August 29, 1861, he was appointed second lieutenant and transferred to Company C, and January 1, 1862, was promoted to first lieutenant of Company H, Twenty-fourth Illinois Volunteers, from which, upon tendering his resignation, he was honorably discharged, to be mustered in as captain of Company H, Eighty-second Illinois Infantry, September 26, 1862. At Gettysburg he was, with many others, captured July 2, 1863. Upon being taken prisoner he was sent to Staunton and then Richmond, Va., where, in March, 1864, Capt. Frey, together with First Lieutenants C. W. Pavey and L. Markbreit, Second Lieutenant W. C. Manning and Major N. Goe (subsequently Secretary of the Navy), was selected as hostage for certain Confederate prisoners and taken to Libby prison. The five officers were placed in the dungeon known as the "black hole," where they remained nearly three months. The health of these hostages becoming seriously impaired by reason of their scanty food, long and close confinement, they were, upon the recommendation of the medical authorities at Richmond, sent to Salisbury, N. C., and eventually to Danville, from where, on the following August 20, Capt. Frey was again placed in close confinement in Libby prison in Richmond, in alleged retaliation for the treatment of Capt. Gordon, of the Confederate army, who had been regularly tried by a military tribunal, convicted and sentenced to death, the execution of which sentence, however, President Lincoln suspended, and meanwhile Capt. W. G. Stewart, of the Confederate army, was placed in cell confinement as a hostage for the threatened retaliatory execution of Capt. Frey.

Finally, January 14, 1865, Capt. Frey was paroled at Aikin's Landing, Va., and upon reporting for duty, after recuperating somewhat, was sent to his regiment and duly mustered out of service as Captain of Company H, Eighty-second Illinois Volunteers, June 9, 1865, having been brevetted Major United States Volunteers "for gallant and meritorious services during the war" March 13, 1865.

The shattered condition of his health and his long absence from home induced Col. Frey to return to Switzerland, where he engaged in editorial labors, and soon became an active and prominent factor in the so-called social or progressive democracy, being repeatedly elected to Congress, and was one term Speaker of the House of Representatives or National Council.

In 1882 it was decided to establish a full diplomatic mission at Washington. Col. Frey was unanimously selected as Switzerland's Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States, where he served with an enviable record until 1887, when he resigned to return to Switzerland.

He was immediately re-elected to Congress, and was subsequently made Chief of the Military Department, equivalent to Secretary of War in the United States.

So satisfactory were his labors in the Swiss Cabinet or Federal Council that he was honored with the Vice-Presidency of that body, and in conformity with usage rarely departed from, as a matter of unwritten civil service sequence in Switzerland, Vice-President Frey at the recent annual election held by the Federal Assembly (Congress in joint session) for executive officers of the Government, he was elected President of the Swiss Confederation for the Presidential term of one year, commencing January 1, 1894.

Hon. Tom Johnson.

Congressman Tom Johnson is the son of a Kentuckian who was a Colonel in the Confederate army. The son rapidly grew rich through street railway patents and franchises, and he is now financially interested in several important manufacturing enterprises. He became an unwilling convert to Henry George's land theory some years ago. Having read "Progress and Poverty," and being unable to meet its arguments to his own satisfaction, he turned over the book to his lawyer, and asked him as counsel to read it and render an opinion traversing its argument. But the lawyer, after reading the book, assented to the argument, and Mr. Johnson, having made further personal examination of the question, enrolled himself among the disciples of Mr. George. Mr. Johnson and Mr. George have been close friends for some years.

CURRENT GOSSIP REGARDING CHARITY, BUSINESS AND POLITICS.

New Ideas of Helping the Poor—The Charitable Pawnbroker—An Unhappy Philanthropist—The Business Situation—Political Wirepulling.

Special New York Letter.

The present period of stress has been remarkable in many ways, and in none more than in the practical intelligence and helpfulness that has been applied to the problems of aiding the deserving poor. One of the latest suggestions is that of reforming the laws governing the business of pawnbroking. Some practical philanthropists, recognizing that the pawnbrokers' shops are the real banks of loan for the poor, are convinced that the business should be so supervised and controlled that only reasonable charges can be collected from those whose necessities require the pawning of personal effects.

As at present conducted, the profits of pawnbroking are enormous. The business is merely organized rapacity and plunder. The pawnbroker takes no chances of loss, charges an interest that is simply robbery, and in most cases becomes the owner of the goods pawned at a mere tithe of their actual value.

The proposition is to organize pawnbrokers' shops on the charitable plan, of simply making them pay expenses. The new style pawnbroker will be a philanthropic old gentleman, who will allow something like the value of articles pawned, and charge only a legal rate of interest for the money loaned.

There is no doubt that there should be a better legal regulation of the pawnbroking business, and such State supervision as would tend to drive out of it the vultures and sharpers who now prey on the necessities of the poor. The business is necessary, and should be conducted on legitimate business lines.

The whole question of public charity is receiving more practical and intelligent consideration than ever before. There is a general recognition of the sound principle that indiscriminate charity begets idleness and mendicancy. A friend of mine narrates an interesting incident bearing upon this question. Calling upon a lady of large wealth, and one of the leaders of society, he found her in an agitated and tearful condition. On asking the cause of her grief, she replied:

"I am in despair over the use I have made of my money. I have tried to do good with it, but I find I have done nothing but evil. It seems as if to give money to the poor was to do them an irreparable wrong. I have made drunkards and idlers and criminals by my well-intentioned but foolish charity, and now I feel that to give even to the needy is only to destroy their last remaining power of self-help. And yet, although I know it is evil, I cannot help giving. I am building up a constituency of mendicants, who absolutely depend upon me for a living. It won't do—it is wrong and wicked—and yet I don't know how to stop it. If I should die to-day I would turn loose upon the community scores of dependents, who would have to starve or beg or do worse to get a living."

It is to this class of real philanthropists that the problem of supplying the means of self-help to the needy is now being taken up as a solution of the great work of aiding the poor.

A Wall street friend of mine has his own views of hard times. "It is all very well," he says, "to talk of the sufferings of the poor, but who sympathizes with the sorrows of the rich? I honestly believe I am a subject for charity. Isn't my hair getting gray? It is so long since I have actually made a dollar, and my surplus is running so low, that I am about in a condition of despair. I tell you there is no poverty like the poverty of the rich, and I know that there has been about as much suffering and despair in Tuxedo and Madison avenue this past year as there has been in the East Side. I am only afraid that my credit won't outlast the crisis, for I tell you, my boy, we rich fellows have hypothecated about everything we possess to get through this pinch, and unless a change comes soon there will be some funny revelations."

There is a general feeling in business circles that a return of good times is now due. There has been plenty of money in the banks for some time, and their coffers are now fairly overflowing. Capital is getting anxious—anxious to invest—and the situation is such as to afford investors plenty of confidence. There is without doubt a general shortage at the present time in most lines of manufactured goods, and the demand is becoming importunate for a supply of this deficiency. It is this condition that is starting up so many factories and mills, and that holds out hope to investors in new enterprises. There has been quite an exodus of big financial men during the past week to the localities where their manufacturing plants are located, with a view to a partial or complete resumption of business.

Local politics presents a rather funny aspect. The special elections for congress in the Fourteenth and Fifteenth districts, embraced in this city, have given Tammany an opportunity to show whether or not the late raid against "the Wigwam" has weakened that institution. The districts are enormously Democratic, and the Tammany leaders, in Col. W. L. Brown and Isidor Strauss, have put forward two men who are acceptable to the Anti-Snappers. This makes the contest a square party fight. The Republicans believe the business situation will help them, and are determined to cut down the Democratic majorities.

Going to Start Up.

The funny aspect of the situation is afforded by the newspapers, which are supporting the Tammany Congressional candidates while furiously attacking that organization. Mr. Croker is said to wear a wise smile these days. It is said he is laying plans to completely undermine Mr. Fairchild's new "State Democracy," which appeared on the scene with such a tooting of trumpets, but which seems to have retired at least temporarily into profound seclusion. Certainly the new organization has as yet shown none of the qualities that are essential to a successful revolt against Tammany.

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TRADE MARK

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing

treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment.

Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3.00 for one month; $5.00 for two months; $7.00 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

GOD IN NATURE.

Oxygen is the active principle of the atmosphere. It comprises one fifth of the common air, ever present and ever waiting. We set aside a basket of peaches; in a short time black spots appear, and we call it decay. Oxygen is corroding them to form other inferior compounds. But place the fruit in a can, heat it, thus expelling the oxygen, and hermetically seal it, and there is no corrosion; the fruit preserves. The air rushes in through the damper of a stove and the oxygen attacks the fuel. A plaster does not cure the wound of your finger; it only prevents the oxygen from attacking the exposed nerve, and nature does the healing. Oxygen decays our teeth. The hydrogen and oxygen of a cistern becomes foul; uncovering it the oxygen rushes in, picks up the impurities and goes to the bottom. The sediment is but the ashes of the combustion. The blacksmith draws a red hot iron from his forge, scales fly in every direction, because the oxygen attacks it. Oxygen is drawn into our blood through the lungs, and it ferrets out the impurities, the blood returns to the lungs after making its voyage through the channels of the system, and fresh oxygen meets the impurities there and relivens the blood, and our breath is carbonic acid gas, poisonous. Our bodies are stoves, our food the fuel. Oxygen attacks the fuel and forms the combustion. This food fuel gives heat and motion. Every healthy man must be relieved of effete matter about 7 ounces daily. In the course of a few years all of the old body is gone and we are physically new. A fuel meal fortifies us against cold. I eat a good warm breakfast and I can ride far better through the cold. Should the fuel be deficient in the body the oxygen attacks the fat, then the muscles, then the nerves and brain, and this is starvation. Unusual exercise demands more oxygen, hence we pant or breathe more rapidly to get it. The organs of the body during sleep are quiet except the heart and that does require so much oxygen. The heart wears out in 30 days and we have a new one, through the laws of waste and supply.

Funny, isn't it, that in order to live we must be constantly dying, and that we could'nt live unless constantly dying. Every movement is wear and tear of muscle, every thought, of the brain. Constant loss and constant supply—constantly dying in order to live!

Oxygen is the great scavenger of the world. It penetrates every nook and corner, attacking everywhere, corroding, destroying, changing into new elements and affirmatives, producing new compounds, pulling down and building up, destroying and yet life giving and life sustaining. We could'nt live five minutes without oxygen, yet it attacks us all the while and robbing us of life and imparting new life. A leaf falls and oxygen attacks it and robs it of life and feeds the soil. A limb withers and the oxygen decays it and finds the soil or carbonizes it. Oxygen attacks the flesh of a defunct animal till the bones are left. Every grown person uses daily 1½ pounds of oxygen. Undiluted oxygen would set the world on fire, metals melt like running oil. Nitrogen is the conservative element that unites with the oxygen and curbs its power. Pure oxygen would hurry our lives so rapidly that they would wear out with the intensity of excitement in a few days. Hydrogen. Water, perhaps composes four-fifths of our flesh and blood. Man is described as "12 pounds of solid matter, wet up with six pails of water." All plumpness of flesh and beauty of cheek are furnished by the juices of the system. We need about 3 pints of water per day. Sunfish are little more than organized water. Bread is half water, watermelons 98 per cent., cucumbers 97, turnips and potatoes in proportion.

Cold contracts, then it slowly expands, cooling down to 32 degrees, when its crystals suddenly dart out at angles to each other increasing in size till ice is formed, and this is found on the surface because it is lighter than water. Water is the common carrier of creation. It not only wets our lips, lays the dust in the street, but dissolves the elements of the soil, climbing as sap through the capillary tubes of the plant and gives life to the leaf. It comes to us in the clouds as rain, bringing the heat of the tropics, while it floats the ice of our river and streams to warmer seas. It washes down the mountain side, bearing mineral matter to fertilize the valleys. It propels water wheels working forges and becomes the grand motive power of the arts and manufactures. It percolates the arid sands, and the desert is made to bloom as the roses. The earth was once a swamp, moist and hot, and ferns towered into trunks a foot and a half in diameter; rushes and grasses grew to the height of lofty trees. In this way vegetation turned into charcoal and hence our mines of coal.

We must have pure air for ventilation in our halls, churches, offices and sleeping apartments. We breathe the oxygen to keep the blood pure. Plants store up solar force. The force of the sunbeams is latent in the plant. The sun shining on the meadow makes the grass grow. A tree towers up through a century of sunshine. A bushel of corn represents an amount of sun forces available for most any purpose. Animals consume any amount of sun force in the food they eat. When the sun sinks in the western horizon he leaves influences behind him that keep up the growth of tree and plant till his return in the East. So with our lives; we do not die at our death. Our lives can round out beautifully, leaving bright influences behind us that will shine on, perhaps for ages, after we have been slumbering in the night at the tomb. And we should not despise the day of small things. There is a latent power in the dew drop that would create a thunderbolt.

The wise proportion of the atmospherical elements prove the wisdom and the power of God.

There are fine singers in the hall before a large and cultured audience. Let there be a surplus of nitrogen, counterbalancing the oxygen, the harmonious sounds become discordant. Bass will sound like the doleful harmony of gudgeons of iron in intense friction, and tenor like the whistle of the locomotive. Harmony and eloquence of sound are produced by the proper proportion of elements of the atmosphere. Without oxygen our voices in speaking or singing would be harsh and discordant sounds.

It is a beautiful thought that the sun that furnishes us light and health and strength paints the colors of the flowers and flings the rainbow across the skies. He ripens the harvest fields and feeds us food as the ravens did Elijah.

Plants consume carbon and give out oxygen, hence their benefit in our sleeping rooms. While they are objects of beauty and perfume they consume the poison of the effete matter of our wasting bodies and give handsome returns. Why are trees and plants green? Because this color is very agreeable to the eye. The heavens are blue and gemmed with stars of gold.

A pitcher of water absorbs the carbon of a sleeping room, and not fit for use in the morning. It is right to be in the room, however, as it absorbs carbon and gives out oxygen as plants. For health, keep a dish of water on the stove.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Interesting Items From Various Points in the County, Reported by Our Staff of Correspondents.

FORKS.

The hotel run by J. E. Ziegler, Lightstreet, is well kept. Mr. Ziegler is an accommodating landlord. We found O. B. Mellick and wife boarding there. O. B. talks about going into the law practice.

John Ammerman is running a fine shoe trade at Lightstreet.

Lightstreet has some pretty girls too. We found them of a Sunday night in the M. E. Church.

Rev. Reuben Wilson, pastor of the M. E. church preached a fine sermon. We remember him as a fellow student at Williamsport Dickinson Seminary.

The Zion church prize business has created a great deal of dissatisfaction.

Three couples and a half in gay sleighs came this way from Millville on their way to Benton last Sabbath in the afternoon and took with them Miss Grace Ammerman. They enjoyed themselves hugely at the Boyd McHenry house filling themselves to their utmost capacity with oysters in every style, returning at 9 o'clock well pleased with their trip.

Miss Ammerman completed the ½ couple which made 4 couples.

J. C. Knorr of Wilkes-Barre is visiting his numerous friends in this community; is on the sick list and is "outing" for his health.

We are glad to state that Capt. Gara is convalescent from a painful wound recently received in his leg.

The sleighing has been number one during the last few days, and our young people and old people have been gliding over the snow at the ring of the merry sleigh bells.

E. M. Laubach has been congregating a large amount of logs at his saw mill from the surrounding people, to be sawed up during the coming spring and summer months, and the people are fast learning where they can be furnished with the finest pumps, finished work, at the same saw mill.

The wire bridge has at last materialized. We can foot it now directly to the post-office without wetting our feet or stumbling into the creek.

That Italian that followed an old harmless man with murderous intent recently above Stillwater, and came very nearly pounding the life out of him insomuch that amputation was made just above one of his ankles, was allowed to escape, owing largely to the indifference and stupidity of the surrounding citizens. His daughter came home tardy, and her excuse was that this self same old man had slapped her. This is a fair exemplification of what our beautiful America is coming to in this matter of promiscuous immigration.

We had the pleasure of visiting Bloomsburg recently and partook of a sumptuous dinner at the St. Elmo Hotel. We wished to test the new proprietor, H. F. Dietterich, and we found him equal to the emergency of keeping up the St. Elmo as of yore by J. L. Girton. It is an easy thing to perpetuate an old and honorable reputation providing you are desirous and capable. H. F. Dietterich has commenced where Girton left off and by all appearances the hotel will run on with continued success, accommodating the public with every comfort and convenience.

LIGHT STREET.

John Zahner of Forks whilst on a visit at John Eckroth's last week was taken suddenly ill.

A party gathered by invitation on last Thursday at the residence of G. E. Grimes and enjoyed themselves as only those who were there could.

Two would be young men of Berwick came to town last week after showing their smartness at Bloomsburg with their horse literally driven till the animal could not go any farther. One of the best lessons that could be given would be to deal with such characters just as the law says they should be dealt with.

A party from town took a flying trip to Jerseytown on Tuesday.

Joseph Hidlay and wife of Orange spent Saturday with Mrs. Hidlay's father Jacob Gerard.

Rev. Chilcoat of Rohrsburg was the recipient of a number of town people on Wednesday, who went to pay the family a visit.

Henry Hagenbuch is still confined to the house at this writing.

Mrs. Wertman and son of Montour county paid Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hagenbuch a visit on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. M. Hulshizer spent a few days in Berwick last week visiting relatives.

John Burlingame and family and Jno. Englehart and family spent Sunday with Abram Custer's.

The residence of L. M. Pettit is now in the hands of the plasterers.

A number of the employees at the paper mill are working only half time.

WALLER.

Miss Eleanor Eves, of Millville, spent Saturday with Miss Mendenhall.

The mail carrier stuck in the snow drifts last week and so we were without any mail Wednesday. This is a very bad route for snow drifts and it is to be hoped that the roads will be kept open so we need not miss our daily visits from Uncle Sam.

Quite a number from this section attended the teachers' institute at Benton, Saturday. It would be a much needed improvement to Benton to have a hall sufficiently large to accommodate a greater number of people.

The oyster supper held in Grange Hall at this place on Saturday evening was a brilliant affair and was very generously patronized. Amusements of different kinds were indulged in by the young folks and all seemed to enjoy themselves to their hearts content. Good sociable times where neighbors meet and pass a few evening hours in familiar chat and pleasantries is time well spent for any community.

Miss Emma Remley, of Divide, was given in marriage to Mr. T. H. Tubbs of Ravencreek, last Wednesday. Their many friends wish them many happy years.

Mr. H. H. Hirleman, our enterprising merchant had quite a serious time in getting home from his weekly trip of delivering produce to up river customers last week. He had the wagon and the snow was drifted so much it took him nearly two extra days to reach home.

EAST BENTON.

Abraham Crawford of this place died last Friday and was buried at the Hamiline cemetery last Sunday.

The Tenth Anniversary of the marriage of Philip Gibbons and wife was observed on Friday night, February 2. About thirty people took possession of Philip's domicile and had an enjoyable time. But for the death of Abram Crawford in the neighborhood on the day of the anniversary the crowd no doubt would have been much larger.

We have now winter in earnest.

C. L. Belles, a prosperous merchant of Benton is seriously ill with the grippe.

The P. O. S. of A. of Jonestown was largely represented at the services at St. James last Sunday at 10:15 A. M. Rev. Houtz selected as his theme for the occasion "Render therefore unto Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's; and unto God the things that are God's." Matt. 12; 21. This was one of the most practical sermons that I have yet heard Rev. Houtz preach. The lines were so distinctly drawn between spiritual and temporal obligations, and of the moral and religious duties we owe to God, and the duties we owe our government, that even a child could not fail to understand the analogy, from the time the memorable words of the text were spoken by Christ, as applicable to all generations under all forms of government. Most prominent among all governments, our government is the brightest star in the political horizon, hence our obligations to our government are of greater responsibility for the reason that we have the best institutions of any government on the globe.

The Teachers' Local Institute held in the Christian Chapel at Benton last Saturday was largely attended especially in the afternoon.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Maltman: The exercises of the institute were similarly conducted as such assemblys are usually conducted throughout the county. Prominent among the speakers were Professors Wilbur and Dewitt of the Bloomsburg State Normal School and Prof. Beishline of Stillwater and county Superintendent Johnston. The other exercises consisted of declamations, essays and music. Prof. Wilbur gave an excellent talk on the subject of History. This gentleman is master of his subject. Prof Dewitt gave illustrations on Manual Training. This gentleman is also master of his subject, but I am loth to believe that manual training will very soon become master of our rural public schools, unless the Commonwealth will be more generous to the rural schools in the application of school appropriations than she has heretofore been inclined to be.

Dr. Hess of Benton gave illustrations on Hygiene and Physiology. Blood circulation was illustrated by the use of black board and crayon of different colors.

Prof. Beishline gave a talk on Grammar, or rather Language. If there is such a thing as perfection in language Prof. Beishline has attained to that degree.

Prof. Lariab had charge of the program in the forenoon and the county Superintendent took charge of it in the afternoon. I left the institute at 3 o'clock and hence I am unable to report the closing exercises. All the exercises however were well rendered.

The P. O. S. of A. of Jonestown announces a flag raising at Cambra on Washington's Birthday February. 22.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

Mr. Willcox is a practical farmer and Postmaster in the village where he resides, and is well known for miles around. He writes:—"I had been in poor health for a long time. Four years ago the crisis came, and a number of our best physicians said I would not live a year. I began using Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, Kidney, Liver and Bladder Cure; then my doctor said it might help me for a time, but I would not be here a year hence. My difficulties, aggravated by Rheumatism, were so bad I could not get either hand to my face. I continued the medicine nearly a year, and now I am as well as any man of my age—sixty-eight years.
